THE KENAF MEETING sponsored by the Palm Beach County Resources Development Board included Mr. E. D. Bell and Henry Reinert of Community Credit Corporation joined by County Agent Moutz, Dr. Allison and members of the staff. Two Cuban Sugar Companies who are now growing kenaf were represented.

Mr. W. R. Guthrie of Leigh Springs Mills emphasized the critical need of industry for a substitute such as kenaf for paper.

Mr. Henry I. Cohn who heads a syndicate that recently purchased some 30,000 acres north of the West Palm Beach Canal, agreed to plant 1,000 acres for kenaf seed on contract for the government.

Although it is unofficial, the government has decided to allow Cuban planters to contract for 70% of the seed requirements of the Miamito Beach and all other kenaf growers in Florida to have the 30% provided they will finance themselves. The reported price to be given is 25¢ per pound, which allows a narrow margin for local farmers, on a new crop.

Local farmers have agreed to produce whatever fiber the Board may wish up to 2,000 tons.

One who is hard to know any member of the United Nations who supports United Nations action in Korea should reasonably object to a determination by the United Nations that no United Nations soldier should be the target of a bullet manufactured in the free world.

It is my opinion that our boys who are fighting in Korea should not be killed and murdered with arms, guns and tanks coming from members of the United Nations for whom these soldiers are fighting. This resolution will be a great force in upholding the hands of the American representatives in the General Assembly of the United Nations to bring about action leading to the placing of an embargo on the shipment to Communist China of war materials from any of the United Nations, and this Congress should not hesitate for one moment to pass this resolution unopposed which might bring about the banning of shipping war materials to Communist China.

got so tight this year that labor was scarce and spring rains received unparalleled waves.

This year's corn deal proves that the Glades is the leading corn producing section in the United States. Previously the produce came from small scattered markets.

Through screening, eight claims were uncovered during the month which were of prosecution type. An additional 43 were discovered as overpayments and rating disqualification while 35 were only found as overpayments.

The possible fraud cases uncovered during the month brought the year's total to 748. Such illegal activities in Florida fewer this year than last when 1,235 such cases had been detected by the end of April.

Overpayment collection activities are proceeding better this year than last year. Approximately $2,328 was collected in April making the 1951 collections $8,622. Overpayment collections for the same period last year amounted to $7,189.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING BRINGS RESULTS

Newspaper classified advertising is bringing unusual results in the industrial program of the Florida State Advertising Commission.

Classified ads in newspapers of the East and West are used by the Commission to attract businessmen and manufacturers with capital to invest. Their independent gross and net results have been $499.77 had been spent on classified advertising during the past six weeks. The ads, he said, produced 341 replies during that period and represented a total invested of $118,500.00—over an average of $136.50 per inquiry.

The inquiries ranged in scope from small businessmen with $5,000 or less to invest to manufacturers with $50,000 and up, desiring to locate their plants in Florida.

"Each inquiry," Sadler stated, "is answered in detail by the Commission's research staff and a list is furnished to all Florida businessmen who contact him so that further sales contact might be undertaken at the community level."

Inquiries relating to large industrial developments are first referred to the Industrial Development Division of the State Improvement Commission.

BIBLE QUESTIONS ANSWERED BY THE VOICE OF PROPHECY
INTERNATIONAL BIBLE EDUCATORS

Question—Will men ever have another chance to eat fruit from the tree of life?

Answer—Some people will, for it is written in Revelation 22:14: "Blessed are they that do His commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city."

Q—What does John 7:15 mean?
A—Let us read it: "And the Jews marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned?" Jesus is not a formal education in the recognized schools. But he revealed the light of heaven to men and "He taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes." Matthew 7:29.

Q—What is "untempered mortar" mentioned in Ezekiel 22:28?
A—It reads: "And her prophets have dashed them with untempered mortar, seeing vainly, and dividing the use unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord God, when the Lord hath not spoken." Untempered mortar is unworked and will not stand the test. Those who do as the prophets mentioned in the text (claiming divine authority for what God has not said) are declared to be using untempered mortar in their spiritual building.

Q—Don't you think that death is a part of the economy of the universe and that it will always continue?

A—According to the Holy Bible, it will not continue. 1 Corinthians 15:26: "The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death." Revelation 21:4: "And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away."

Q—Is there any reason to believe that, as Christ went about His work of healing the people, He knew He would soon die a cruel death?

A—He did know it beforehand. We read Luke 13:33: "Then He took unto Him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things that are written by the prophets concerning the Son of man shall be accomplished. For He shall be delivered unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and spitefully entreated, and spitted on: and they shall scourge Him, and put Him to death: and the third day He shall rise again."

CURIOUS FACTS ABOUT EARLY FLORIDA
(From Barcia's Chronological History of the Continent of Florida, translated from the Spanish by Anthony Kerrigan for the St. Augustine Historical Society, and scheduled for publication by the University of Florida Press. The previously untranslated history brings to light many curious and hitherto unknown facts about early America.)

The Working of the Indian Intelligence Service
"It was a custom among the Indians, whenever they engaged the enemy, to halt and celebrate certain ceremonies in order to ascertain the enemy strength. The leader of the ritual was the medicine man. The medicine man was a frightful old man who might have been over a hundred and twenty years of age; he took a place in the center of the army and ordered a buckler brought him. This he placed on the ground and described around it a circle of about five paces in diameter; inside he drew various characters whereon he kneeled. Gradually he began to raise himself until he was sitting upon his heels, touching the ground with his toes only. He remained in that position for more than a quarter of an hour, talking to himself, grimacing and gesturing. Then he began to alter his aspect, turning into such a frightening figure that he seemed to have lost his reason. His agitation was so intense that his bones rattled as if they would break. In other respects, too his behavior was abnormal. Consequently, he could not have been feigning. His actions could have been due to nothing else than the workings of the Devil. The simple heathens were so intent upon his performance that they did not blink an eye while the French continued, cautious.

The sorcerer began to come to his senses, and withdrew from the circle, so fatigued and wasted that he could not even breathe. He recovered somewhat and told the cacique the total number of the opposing army, as well as the place it swarmed him."

MERCHANTS' PRICING CHARTS DUE MAY 30

Every merchant required to file a pricing chart under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 should do so as soon as possible although the deadline was extended to May 30, Sam F. Davis, district director of the Office of Price Stabilization in Miami said recently.

It is to the advantage of the merchant to file early, Davis pointed out, because he can immediately begin pricing under the margins of profit Price Regulation which permits no adjustment for wholesale price increases.

Davis said that merchants have had more than two months to prepare the price charts since issuance of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, and nearly a month to include the additions listed in amendment 2 to the regulation.

Numerous guides and other instructions for preparing the charts have been distributed to merchants by the Office of Price Stabilization, through banks, chambers of commerce and trade associations, he said, and price specialists from the district office have been and will continue conducting trade meetings for personal instructions.

Merchants required to file charts include most retailers of ready to wear clothing, textiles,

VEHICLE INSPECTIONS UNDER WAY IN STATE

The voluntary motor vehicle safety inspection program got under way the first of the month with local authorities co-operating with the Florida Highway Patrol, checking the equipment of trucks and passenger cars at various points in the county.

At Tallahassee, Director H. N. Kirkman of the Patrol urged all motorists to have their vehicles checked by their local garages before entering the inspection lines, so that safety adjustments can be made.

"Some drivers may not realize that their vehicles are in an unsafe condition," he said. "Such inspections are for the best interest of the motoring public."

The safety campaign is the chief project of the Florida Highway Patrol during the month of May.

Equipment to be checked includes the brakes, lights, muffler and exhaust system, tires, steering apparatus, windshield glass and wiper, rear-view mirrors and horns. Additional inspections will be made on trucks for flags, flares, clearance and marker lights.

In a similar program last year, officers found one third safety equipment or less of the vehicles lacking in certain features.

Who said You can't Afford a Fine Car?

When you look at all a Roadmaster has to offer, it's only natural to conclude that it's priced with the rest of the fine-car field.

Sweeping proudly past you, it has a distinction that few cars can equal.

Stepping nimbly away from a stop light, it has the willing surge of power that the very exclusive combination of a 152-horsepower Fireball engine and Dynaflo Drive delivers.

It rides the road with majestic smoothness, and comes to a smooth and gentle halt, in response to the finest brakes Buick ever developed.

Inside, it has spacious room, from side to side and front to back and seat to roof—plus a softness of cushions and a richness of fabrics which bespeak the custom standards to which it is painstakingly built.

When better automobiles are built, Buick will build them.
